Most of the good cattle here have been shipped out as the pastures are dry enough to burn in places. Water is very scarce on some farms and cattle men are not going to take any chances on the late market.

Hon. Grover Thompson of Lexington, is visiting his parents here. His brother, Everett, of Louisa, came out with him Sunday evening.

Dr. W. A. Rice is having a fine modern house built on his farm near Dennis. The doctor is progressive and believes that we should enjoy this life and not wait till one is dead before saying something pleasant about him or doing some good deed.

Some enterprising citizens met and repaired the bad road along by the Dennis postoffice and the hill below there. Very good work was done which shows what could be done if men would just do it instead of cursing the county officials and wasting time enough in gossiping to build new roads. The repairing is a step in the right direction and will bear good fruit. Keep it up. LEM JUCKLENS.

WAR NEEDS BOOM RED CROSS SEAL HERE

New York, August 20.—Plans have been completed by the American Red Cross and The National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis for the opening of the 1917 Red Cross Christmas Seal Sale about November 26 and continuing up to January 1. The campaign will seek to raise at least $2,000,000 for the anti-tuberculosis movement in the United States, or more than double the returns in any previous year. The war has made it imperative that every possible facility for the care of consumption be enlarged.

In announcing the plans for an increased campaign, The National Association and the American Red Cross call attention to the fact that the examination of 10,000,000 men subject to the draft, besides thousands of others who are enlisting voluntarily, has already and will continue to disclose thousands of new cases of tuberculosis, which have hitherto been unsuspected. To provide facilities for the care of these cases and to educate the general public and the conscripts themselves relative to the danger of the spread of tuberculosis, the American Red Cross and The National Association call upon the people of the United States for increased contributions. "We can avoid the fatal mistake of France and some of our other Allies only by excluding tuberculosis from the Army and by providing adequate care for every case of this disease developing in this country," says Dr. Charles J. Hatfield, Executive Secretary of the National Association.

The money raised from the sale of Red Cross Seals will be distributed throughout the United States and most of it will remain in the communities where the Seals are sold. In every state, however, it is planned to establish a special war fund, to provide immediate facilities for discharged recruits and soldiers. These funds will be administered through the state and local anti-tuberculosis associations in co-operation with the Military Department of The National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis.

Babies' Health Contest Draws Mothers to the State Fair

COMMISSIONER COHEN AND PRIZE CUP AND BABY.

You would guard your baby with your life, but how much better to guard it with your brain. One million babies are now entering on their first summer, and one out of every fifteen of these will die, according to medical statistics, from heat, poor nourishment and the wrong clothes. Do you want your baby to be one of the fifteen? If not, learn how to keep your little one from heat suffering, from the wrong food and from clothes that sap its little strength.

Through the examinations, mental and physical, the scoring of points both good and bad, the scientific object lessons and reading matter provided by the Babies' Health Contest at the Kentucky State Fair, which will be held this year the week of Sept. 10, thousands of mothers are enabled to judge just what dangers are threatening their babies, just what fits to remedy and just how to keep them in prime condition.

If you had a hog, a horse or cow you would learn and know something of its care, because it is valuable. Isn't your baby worth more than horse or cow or pig? Is the query of those interested in the promotion of scientific baby care. They argue that, no matter how lovely, how dimpled, how pink and white and sweet it is, there may be disease or deformity lurking under this beauty, and this is an evil of which you should be forewarned.

Up to date mothers throughout Kentucky are not only entering this contest to find out about their babies, but are coming back year by year to mark the progress this knowledge has given them and the improvement it has made in their children.

The contest this year, which is under the supervision of Mrs. John L. Woodbury, will be marked by a number of innovations, among which will be an elaborate display of knitted goods for babies and the giving away of patterns for these articles to the mothers desiring them.

Another attractive feature will be the spectacular parade which will final the baby contest. This parade will be arranged as a beautiful spectacle in the Hippodrome pavilion and will show every little tot entered in the contest to the greatest advantage.

Entrance to the Babies' Health Contest is free and is open to babies between twelve and thirty-six months throughout the state of Kentucky.
